

bibchen - Making Smaller Bibliographies

Richard Teague

October 10, 2018

Are you writing a proposal with citations and you need a smaller reference section? Tired of having to mess around with writing out each reference by hand to make it small enough to fit? bibchen is here to help!

If we have some rather long text citing inline references: Cannon & Pickering (1918), Rubin et al. (1980), and Leavitt (1908). Maybe there are some in parentheses (Penzias & Wilson, 1965; Abbott et al., 2017).

References Abbott et al. 2017, PRL, 119, 161101 · Cannon & Pickering 1918, Annals of Harvard College Observatory, 91, 1 · Leavitt 1908, Annals of Harvard College Observatory, 60, 87 · Penzias & Wilson 1965, ApJ, 142, 419 · Rubin et al. 1980, ApJ, 238, 471
