

`bibchen` - Making Smaller Bibliographies

Richard Teague

October 10, 2018

Are you writing a proposal with citations and you need a smaller reference section? Tired of having to mess around with writing out each reference by hand to make it small enough to fit? `bibchen` is here to help!

If we have some rather long text citing inline references: Teague et al. (2018), Teague & Foreman-Mackey (2018), and Teague et al. (2017). Maybe there are some in parentheses (Teague et al. 2015, 2016), but that's OK.

References: Teague et al. 2018, ApJ, 860, L12 · Teague & Foreman-Mackey 2018, Research Notes of the American Astronomical Society, 2, 173 · Teague et al. 2016, A&A, 592, A49 · Teague et al. 2017, ApJ, 835, 228 · Teague et al. 2015, A&A, 574, A137